Dr. Arnaud Kerzmann Named Journal of Critical Limb Ischemia's 2025 Reviewer of the Year

[Grand Rapids, MI, USA], March 2026 - The Critical Limb Ischemia (CLI) Global Society is pleased to announce that Dr. Arnaud Kerzmann has been named the 2025 Journal of Critical Limb Ischemia (JCLI) Reviewer of the Year, recognizing his outstanding contributions to the journal's peer review process and his dedication to advancing the field of critical limb ischemia care.

Each year, JCLI recognizes an exceptional reviewer whose thoughtful evaluations, timely feedback, and commitment to scientific rigor help maintain the journal's high editorial standards. Dr. Kerzmann was selected for his consistent support of the peer review process and his meaningful contributions to ensuring the publication of high-quality research in the vascular and endovascular space.

Dr. Kerzmann serves as the Head of Clinic at the University Hospital of Liège (CHU de Liège) in Belgium, where his focus is endovascular and vascular surgery. He has contributed significantly to advancing knowledge and improving patient care in the treatment of critical limb ischemia.

Peer reviewers play a vital role in the scientific publishing process and JCLI is grateful for the time and expertise Dr. Kerzmann has contributed to the journal and to the broader mission of improving outcomes for patients with limb-threatening vascular disease.

About The Journal of Critical Limb Ischemia

The Journal of Critical Limb Ischemia is the only peer-reviewed journal dedicated to advancing the treatment of critical limb ischemia. The goal of the journal is to provide an international forum for the presentation of original ideas and recent results related to all aspects of diagnostic, therapeutic, and pathophysiologic aspects of critical limb ischemia. These articles will likely substantially influence the clinical practice of treating the co-morbidities present in patients presenting with advanced disease.
